MARKET REPORT

SUPPLY & QUALITY UPDATES

ROMAINE HEARTS

Petite Romaine Hearts are extremely limited and are on allocation. Jumbo Hearts are affected as well, but we are able to keep pace with demand. Prices are very high and this is expected to last another 1-2 weeks.

BLUEBERRIES

Central MX is winding down and the Central Valley in CA has light production the next couple of weeks. PNW has started but won't have any decent volume until the end of the month. CA supplies will not be enough to cover demand; product will be limited until we see overall better production from all growing areas.

MELONS

Melon season in Yuma is coming to an early end due to whitefly and virus pressure. Large sized fruit is hard to get and market is trending smaller on honeydew and cantaloupe. California melon season is expected to start by the end of the month, but the market will be tight on large sizes especially for a few weeks.

GRAPES

Mexican season is winding down quickly on both green and red grapes and the wholesale market is tightening. California grapes are expected to start early with good quality around 6/22. Prices will be high to start but should come down after the first week of July.

WEATHER FORECAST

GROWING CONDITIONS ACROSS REGIONS

Weather conditions are favorable in the Salinas Valley with high's expected in the upper 60's to low 80's and overnight lows in the mid 60's. We'll see the typical coastal fog in the morning and sunny days with high humidity. Mildew risk is a concern with the humidity so growers will be trying to mitigate that issue. No rain is expected or any unusual weather patterns.

SUPPORTING LOCAL FARMS

MENDOZA FARMS

Lompoc, CA

Located in Lompoc, California, Mendoza Farm is led by Juan and his family, who bring a hands-on, dedicated approach to cultivating a diverse range of crops. Their fields produce an abundant mix of seasonal favorites, including asparagus, broccolini, cilantro, celery, fennel, rhubarb, strawberries, blackberries, raspberries, and sugar snap peas.

With a strong emphasis on consistency and quality, Mendoza Farm delivers produce that reflects both the richness of the region and the care behind each harvest. Their wide variety and dependable freshness make them a standout source for flavorful, market-ready fruits and vegetables.
