PRODUCE NOTES

WEATHER ALERTS:

- Northern Baja flooding from Hurricane Rachel continues to impact carrots, green beans, cucumbers and squash. Costs are expected to remain elevated on products sourced from Northern Mexico.
- Extreme heat, INSV, and insect pressure in the California growing regions continue to cause limited availability, quality challenges, and increased costs on Iceberg, Romaine, Butter Lettuce, Red & Green Leaf Lettuce, Lettuce Mixes, Arugula, some Broccoli varieties, and Colored Cauliflower.

APPLES: WA-grown Envy, Fuji, Gala, Golden Delicious, Honeycrisp, Granny Smith, Pink Lady and Red Delicious supplies remain limited as storage crops finish and new-crop volume builds. Oz Farm Organic Belle de Boskoop and Hudson Golden Gem Apples have arrived. Washington grown Lucy Glo & Lucy Rose, and Imported Macintosh Apples from Eastern Canada are also available.

BEANS: Coke Farm Organic Purple Wax Beans are available, while Yellow Wax Bean quality remains challenged. Conventional Blue Lake quality is nice but they are still expensive. Mexico grown, cut 2x5lb Blue Lake Beans are out of stock until midweek due to previous flooding in Baja.

BROCCOLI: Broccoli Romanesco remains in a gap due to insect pressure and is not expected to improve until next month. Organic Broccoli Crowns and Organic Broccoli De Ciccio are also gapping. Sweet Baby Broccoli remains limited. Conventional broccoli supplies have improved, and Broccoli Florets are returning to normal availability.

CABBAGE: Green, Napa, Red Napa and Red Cabbage supplies are steady. Cone Cabbage is currently gapping due to pest pressure. Red Napa remains available and a split code is available for 2-lb bags.

CHICORIES: Brisa Ranches Organic Mixed Chicories are in stock. The mix could contain some of the following varieties: Indivia Riccia, Pan Di Zuccero, Palla Rosa, Rosa Di Varona, Castle Franco & Chioggia Varigata. Babe Farms Blond Frisee supplies are steady. Organic 24ct Frisee is gapping due to high heat in the growing regions.

GRAPES: California Autumn Crisp Green Grapes were impacted by recent heat and costs are up. Red Seedless Grapes offer the best value and volume. Cotton Candy Grapes are finished for the season.

LETTUCE: Artisan BMX, Sweet Gem, Little Gem, Green Leaf, Red Leaf, Romaine and Romaine Hearts continue to be affected by insect pressure and INSV. Butter Lettuce is currently gapping. Baby Iceberg Lettuce has been discontinued until the transition to Yuma. Limited supplies of Ventura-grown Romaine and Romaine Hearts are available. Gotham Greens Butterhead & Gourmet Mixed Medley supplies are steady.

MELONS: Conventional Cantaloupes and Honeydew Melons are limited and prices are up. California grown Seedless Watermelons will continue through October with prices up on the limited supplies. Full Belly's Organic Melons are all limited and the season is ending very soon.
